Eight Years Strong: Schneider National Ranks #10 on G.I. Jobs' Top 100 Military Friendly Employers List

*Continued Commitment to Hiring Current and Former Military Personnel Makes Schneider
Highest Ranking Trucking Company on 2014 List*

GREEN BAY, Wis. - (November 11, 2013) - Schneider National, Inc., a premier provider of truckload, intermodal and logistics services, announced today it has made the coveted G.I. Jobs Top 100 Military Friendly Employers® list for the eighth straight year. Schneider ranked number ten on the list – earning acknowledgment for the programs and benefits it offers to current and former military personnel. It is the highest ranking trucking company named to this year's list.

G.I. Jobs' 2014 Top 100 Military Friendly Employers list honors the top 2 percent of U.S. companies that are doing the most to embrace America's service members and veterans. More than 5,000 companies were ranked this year based on survey results that assess the strength of a company's military recruiting program, including the percentage of new hires with prior military service and all policies in place to recognize military service.

“Even though we have been named to this prestigious list eight years in a row, learning we have been honored (along with so many other companies with strong track records of military support) is always a big thrill,” said Rob Reich, vice president of maintenance and driver recruiting, Schneider National and a veteran of the U.S. Army. “The highest honor, of course, is the fact that so many current and former military members choose Schneider as their employer. It's not surprising, since our core values of safety, integrity, respect and excellence mirror those of the military: duty, respect, integrity and pride.”

Schneider National's deep military roots date back to the company's founder, Al Schneider, a National Guardsman who understood the valuable skills military members bring to the table. Today, Schneider continues its commitment of providing rewarding careers to those with a military background through specific programs to ease transition and ensure long-term career success, including:

- Apprenticeship Program: Being one of only a few transportation providers certified under the Department of Veterans Affairs' Apprenticeship Program, allowing Veterans, Guard members and Reservists to receive both their weekly wages from Schneider National and their monthly educational benefit payment from the VA – up to $1,236 each month.
- The Schneider National Military Owner-Operator Program: This initiative provides military personnel with the tools, training and support they need to become successful small-business owner-operators. This program helps new owner-operators obtain a new or gently used truck through a special little-to-no-money-down, no-credit check lease.

“Schneider bends over backward to accommodate those who serve in the military and understands the importance of working with your schedule,” says Richard Barczewski, a regional driver for Schneider's Van-Truckload division who has been deployed to Afghanistan twice since joining the company in 2006. “Plus, there is a real sense of loyalty and respect at Schneider along with the feeling of camaraderie – you are a member of the team.”

Coupled with the comprehensive benefits package Schneider provides to all associates, military personnel can also expect:

- Extended company benefits and differential pay if deployed for up to 18 months
- Excused time off for weekend drill and annual training (no vacation time required)
- Quick-hire process, allowing active military to apply, interview and be accepted two months prior to separation
- Nationwide opportunities throughout Schneider's network of offices, maintenance facilities and operating centers

Schneider is one of the nation's largest and most-recognized employers of military personnel, with over 20 percent of its hires having a military background. In addition to eight consecutive years of recognition from G.I. Jobs, the company has won numerous national, state and regional awards: the inaugural Department of Defense Freedom Award, HireVetsFirst ESGR 5-Star employer, ESGR Extraordinary Employer Support Award, 2013 Most Valuable Employer by Civilianjobs.com and Top 35 Veteran Employer by Military.com.
