ARCHITECTURAL DETAIL

The Isadore and Rosalie Sharp City Room is a five-storey lobby flanked on one side by a wooden lattice wall enclosing the entrance to R. Fraser Elliott Hall and on the other by a glass wall of windows the length of the University Avenue façade. From the centre of the lobby, the ceiling is open to the fifth storey, and the translucent glass staircase from the Grand Ring to Ring 4 provides a dramatic reinforcement to the openness of the space. The Isadore and Rosalie Sharp City Room is naturally lit by the wall of windows along the west side of the building. Exterior blinds can be used to dim the natural lighting, however a full blackout cannot be achieved. Each landing provides a unique space for displays, gatherings, or performances and range in shapes and sizes.
