

A photograph of the Canadore College Residence building, a modern multi-story structure with a mix of grey and white panels and large windows. A parking lot with several cars is in the foreground. A semi-transparent dark grey box with white text is overlaid on the right side of the image.

Northern Living where the air is fresh and the connection is quick!

Canadore College's recent fall delivery announcement has increased opportunities for meaningful in-person learning and activities on campus. Whether your classes will physically take place on-campus, continue to be delivered remotely, or a combination of both, we are ready to support your learning experience in Residence!

Living in Residence is a great way to take advantage of the full student experience at Canadore.

For many first-year students, or second year students who spent their initial year studying completely remotely, living on-campus is a great way to engage with your peers and feel a part of the Canadore community. If your program continues to be delivered remotely, living in Residence gives you access to our recently upgraded wi-fi to support your online learning needs.

Over the past year, the wider Canadore community have benefited from the lowest cumulative COVID-19 case rates (Nipissing Parry Sound Health Unit), including zero community spread in Residence during the 2020-2021 academic year. Not only is living on-campus fun and engaging, it supports healthy living with access to 700 acres of hiking trails surrounding the campus, and it is a short walk to Lake Nipissing, the fourth largest lake in Ontario.

Space is limited, apply today!

To learn more about living on-campus or apply, please visit canadorecollege.ca/residence