

Canadore College Spring Semester Update for Agent Partners

Spring 2022 Semester Update

Dear Recruiting Partners,

Spring has Sprung! Our Spring 2022 semester began in early May. The International Department has seen increased student traffic in the department and our team has had the opportunity to meet some wonderful students from Brazil, China, El Salvador, India, Mexico Nigeria, Philippines, Sri Lanka and more. In fact, we have four International Student Ambassadors studying with us at our North Bay campuses that are employed by Canadore and are key members of the International Department. They assist our new and existing students in responding to various queries.

When speaking to students, we question if they have retained services from an agent. For students who have, we discuss services that were provided, satisfaction level and professional standards given by the agent. These key components are important to Canadore as we consider new partnership and explore renewal of agreements.

We are in the process of reviewing our partnership agreements and measuring performance. OCAS provides us with key data to help us identify where agents are recruiting international students from and analyzing conversion rates. During the next few months, we will review performance and where applicable, will renew agreements that have expired. We anticipate having these completed by August 31, 2022. We will honour existing expired agreements for agents this applies to and access to OCAS will remain active.

A list of registered students for Spring 2022 will be forwarded to agencies that are eligible to claim commission in June 2022. Agents are requested to raise their invoice by Tuesday, June 28, 2022.

We have a series of training webinars scheduled this summer. Details are included within this document. Please be sure your team registers! These sessions will focus on diversification, program highlights, geographical incentives, commission statement process, student residence, details about our 4 northern campuses, the communities of North Bay and Parry Sound and more. This is a great opportunity to bring forward your questions.

We regret to inform our agent network that our Honours Bachelor of Advanced Manufacturing Technology Management Degree Program originally scheduled to host our first cohort this Fall 2022 has been suspended until further notice. On a positive note, we are happy to advise that EAP will be offered at our North Bay campus beginning this Fall 2022.

Contest!

What kind of program development and credentials do you want Canadore College to consider? This is a great opportunity to provide us with suggestions on how we can collaboratively work more efficiently to improve student and partnership outcome. Complete the questionnaire to be eligible to win a prize.

The last day to defer for Fall 2022 intake is Friday, August 26, 2022. Please share this information with your team.

You are encouraged to circulate this Semester Update to your team. This valuable information will help agents and counsellors support students during their study abroad experience.

CAMPUS / PROGRAM HIGHLIGHTS – TECH TALK

Aviation Campus

Built in 2002, the Canadore College Aviation Campus is located next to North Bay's Jack Garland Airport runways. The campus boasts a 17,000 square foot hangar filled with fixed and rotary wing aircraft, the largest number of any college in Ontario. There is also more than 40,000 square feet of premium aviation lab training space. The high-tech facility produces highly trained technicians in the fields of aircraft maintenance, structures, repair and avionics.

Canadore's Aviation Fundamentals program teaches basic industry techniques and standard practices, and allows students to strengthen math, science and technical skills, and acquire prerequisites to enroll in on the aviation programs.

The avionics lab provides students with an opportunity to learn unique skills using high-tech tools such as the "buddy panel" -- a simulated instrument panel which allows students to build a functioning instrument panel as well as maintain and troubleshoot the highly sophisticated panels found inside the cockpit.

The highly complex systems of an aircraft, including its GPS (global positioning system) and its altimeter (which reports the craft's height above ground), are critical to the safety of the pilot and the plane. The tools required to successfully build and maintain such a sensitive cluster of equipment is precisely what students learn.

The technology goes far beyond the electronics. The material used to fabricate aircraft must be strong yet light enough to take flight. Aluminum, fibreglass, Kevlar, and carbon fibre are among the materials students learn to work with in creating small panels, sections of floors, and a miniaturized wing.

Canadore College Spring Semester Update for Agent Partners

To be fully licensed as an aircraft maintenance or avionics technician a student requires 48 months of experience. Transport Canada credits Canadore's programs with 18 months toward this license. Following graduation, a Canadore student only requires 30 additional months of apprenticeship to be fully licensed.

Social Robots as Educational Tools

A pair of AvatarMind iPal social robots are being used as tools for newly developed programs and education opportunities.

Manufactured by AvatarMind, these humanoid robots are specifically designed for senior care, retail/hospitality, and children's education. Standing at 3.5 feet tall, the robots have Bluetooth and WiFi capabilities to communicate with a controlling tablet to enhance their functionality.

Students in the mental health and addictions, social service worker, and collaborative nursing programs are learning how to utilize the robots, and will create programs and activities for seniors.

The Future of Audio is Spatial

Spatial audio is where the future lies. Dolby Atmos goes beyond ordinary listening by transporting you with breakthrough spatial sound experience, drawing you in deeper so you hear and feel more.

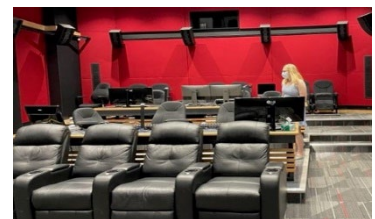

Canadore's Post Production program offers a certified Dolby Theatre course that allows students learn to create, edit and enjoy an audio immersive experience.

Atmos uses a 3D panner that provides meta data to the Objects and Beds that give positional data for the sound that allows Atmos to successfully mix down to other speaker formats and maintain the impression of spatial positioning, even in stereo."

What powers this theatre is impressive. The theatre itself is simple and elegant. The outer walls are surrounded by 20 speakers, including multiple subwoofers and an acoustically transparent video screen, to allow for audio from the front speakers which are mounted out of sight.

Behind the scenes the equipment and its configuration are very complex. Three complete server racks are filled with sophisticated audio and video equipment controlled by two Apple Mac Pro computers including the proprietary Dolby Atmos software required to create such content.

Canadore College Spring Semester Update for Agent Partners

The Dolby Theatrical Atmos Rendering and Mastering Unit enables the control of sound as an object which can be located precisely where intended, encoding digital sounds, converting digital to analog and, finally, powering amplifiers capable of up to 70,000 watts of peak power. This is ideal to achieve the level of sound quality needed while obtaining full dynamic range.

A facility such as the one found at Canadore makes it possible for students to learn how to use Dolby Atmos technology to create their own unique masterpieces, and sets them up with skills for the future.

Genomics and the Changing World

The Genomics Lab inside Canadore's College Drive Campus has the staff and equipment required to teach students the hands-on skills necessary to work in a real world genomics lab, and has established a state-of-the art applied research facility and capacity. This facility allows the students to apply the theory they have learned in class, and exposes them to a variety of techniques. As the only college in Ontario with a high tech genomics facility, Canadore students are learning how to use equipment such as the Illumina Mini Seq to sequence bases of DNA samples. The applications of DNA sequencing are varied, and include the diagnosis and treatment of disease, speciation, food safety, and sustainable agriculture.

"The new equipment and infrastructure at Canadore allows the Biotechnology and Functional Genomics students to learn cutting-edge technology, which prepares them well for job and research opportunities," said Tara McGoey, Ph.D. Coordinator, Professor Biotechnology Program.

The opportunity to get hands-on training with highly sophisticated tools in a high tech facility offers Canadore's students the opportunity to prepare themselves for a career in which they can use a unique skill set typically only available in large university settings.

Commercial Helicopter Pilot Program – Canadore Pilot Preparedness Partnerships

PROCESSES

Payment Deadlines and Extension Requests

Payment extension requests will not be granted for Fall 2022 intake. If students are unable to meet payment deadlines, Canadore will close the application and students will have to re-apply for a future intake.

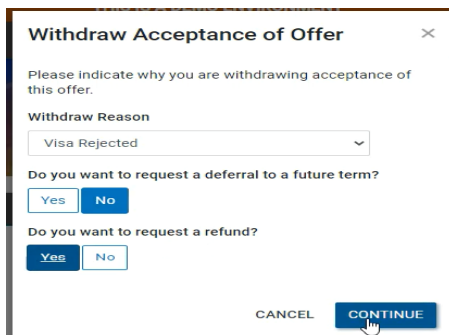

Key dates and deadlines are important to reference in order to achieve the best outcome for the student. Please review here: Important Dates and Deadlines - Canadore College.

Tuition Payment Receipt

Students that are filing study permit applications and require a receipt will be redirected to their agent. Agents are responsible for uploading proof of payment in order for Canadore to issue a receipt. OCAS is the platform for all documents.

Refund Requests

The refund request process is initiated by the agent via the OCAS portal only when the offer is in a paid state in the system. This is done once proof of payment or receipt for either the deposit (minimum $2,500) or full tuition has been made. This often occurs when the student's visa is rejected. In this situation, agents will have to withdraw acceptance of the offer in the student's file in OCAS. This step will redirect you to a new screen to continue with the refund request.

Withdraw Acceptance of Offer

Please indicate why you are withdrawing acceptance of this offer.

Withdraw Reason
Visa Rejected

Do you want to request a deferral to a future term?

Do you want to request a refund?

For students withdrawing after registration, students are required to complete the online withdrawal form or contact 705-747-7600 ext. 5205.

Registration

Students should NOT register until they have received their study permit and visa and/or if they plan to defer. Doing so without a study permit is at the risk of the student. Agents can help communicate this information to students and discourage this practice.

Canadore College Spring Semester Update for Agent Partners

Deferrals

The last day to defer for Fall (September) 2022 intake is Friday, August 26, 2022. Please share this information with your team.

If a student has web registered through their self-service account, they cannot defer.

Change of Campus

We are receiving several reports from students they have been led to believe by their agent that they can request a transfer to a GTA (Greater Toronto Area) campus once they arrive in Canada and are registered in North Bay. This is contrary to our policy. Please note these cases will be monitored and may have an impact on our current or future partnership. Change of campus from North Bay to Greater Toronto Area (GTA) are not permitted. Agents are required to abide by their allocated seats or applications may be revoked.

Students Without a Last Name

Where students do not have a legal last name on their passport, please include a “period/dot” on the application.
