CSU International Programs

CSU International Programs \(CSU IP\) are offered at more than 50 distinguished universities in 18 countries for the semester, academic or calendar year. Students apply from all 23 campuses in the CSU system. You pay CSU tuition, may use Financial Aid (if eligible), and receive CSULB credit.

Requirements for this program are generally a 2.75 GPA (some countries require a 3.0 GPA). Students may study in English in most locations and many are open to sophomores. Other programs require 2 years of a foreign language and junior class standing. Learn more details at: www.calstate.edu/ip

Why study abroad for a year?
CSU IP’s guiding principle is that students should be “immersed” in the academic and living environments of their host countries. Your life will be transformed by learning a new language and culture.

Employers want “real world” experience. By studying abroad you gain international skills and global understanding. Your future employer will value your ability to look at things from different points of view.

Is it expensive?
No. Costs are comparable to studying at CSULB and, in some cases, may even be lower. Financial aid applies.
