

"You cannot do kindness too soon, for you never know how soon it will be too late." —Ralph Waldo Emerson

I chose this because it makes sense and I like it. Saying nice things spreads kindness. The quote means if you say something mean sometimes you're too late to say something nice/sorry.