1. CONTEXT

1.1 New regulations regarding homeschooling came into effect on July 1, 2018, resulting in many changes in the roles and responsibilities of school boards.

1.2 The guidelines in this document will allow children who receive instruction at home to benefit from the services provided by the regulations according to procedures established by the school board.

1.3 Relations between school boards and the parents of homeschooled children must be characterized by a high degree of cooperation, while respecting the rights and obligations of each.

2. LEGAL AND REGULATORY FRAMEWORK

8.4 Procedures and Responsibilities

The request to write Ministerial Exams with the EMSB must first be submitted to the Ministry of Education through the assigned DEM representative. It is the parents' responsibility to register their child for any and all types of evaluation with the school board, respecting the procedures and deadlines published on the school board website.

June 2023 Exam Session Registration Period

Exam Registration Starting Date	Exam Registration Deadline
February 12, 2023	April 3rd, 2023

All exams must be written in person on the date and time specified by the MEQ and at the location specified by the school board. The student's identity will be verified. Only the student will be admitted to the room where the exam is to be administered. All exams will be prepared, supervised, and corrected by the school board education personnel. If the student is not in attendance for an exam, the notation ABS (absent) will be recorded. Students writing any of the Secondary 4 or 5 exams can be registered for any of the following exam sessions (Article 15.1).

- May/June;
- July/August;
- January.

The grade 6 exams are only written between the middle of April and the middle of June of each year. These exam results will be communicated to parents in a letter via email by the end of July.

8.4.1 Parents' Responsibilities for grade 6, Secondary 4 & 5 exams and projects

- a) Parents must register with the school board for their child to write the exams and/or complete projects, respecting the registration deadline published on the school board's website.
- b) Parents must register their child to write the exams or to complete the projects using the form appended to the EMSB Modalities document found on the school board website.
- c) The child's Learning Project must be sent to the EMSB Homeschooling office along with all requests for evaluation.

8.4.2 Failed exams

The same registration procedure applies for students who fail a MEQ Secondary 4 or 5 exam. There are no opportunities to rewrite a failed grade 6 MEQ exam. Parents can register their child to rewrite the failed exam during the following examination sessions: May/June, July/August, or January. Students are limited, by their age, in the number of times they can rewrite a Secondary 4 or 5 exams. If they are 16 years old by July 1st, they are no longer part of the Youth Sector and must transfer to the Adult Sector. They can rewrite their exams through the Adult Sector program called D.E.A.L. Information on D.E.A.L is available on the school board website.

8.5 Secondary 4 & 5 MEQ Uniform / Compulsory Exams

Uniform examinations can lead to the acquisition of high school leaving credits required for graduation from high school with a high school leaving diploma (DES). For homeschoolers, these exams count for 100% of their final mark.

8.5.1 Two scenarios are possible

a) Scenario 1 – The student wants to obtain a high school diploma by writing MEQ exams.

i) Parents' Responsibilities

- 1) Parents must register with the school board for their child to write the Uniform exams, respecting the registration deadline published on the school board's website.
- 2) Parents must register their child to write the exams using the form appended to the EMSB Modalities document found on the school board website.
- 3) The child's Learning Project must be sent to the EMSB Homeschooling office school board along with the request for evaluation.

b) Scenario 2 – The student does not want to obtain a high school diploma. The student must still show up to write the MEQ mandated exams.

i) Parents' Responsibilities

- 1) Parents must register with the school board for their child to write a Uniform examination, respecting the registration deadline published on the school board's website. Although it is not mandatory for parents to provide the school board with the child's Learning Project, it is advisable.
- 2) Parents must register their child to write the exams using the form appended to the EMSB Modalities document found on the school board website.

8.6 School Board's Responsibility

Marks obtained by homeschoolers on Uniform examinations will be communicated to parents in a letter sent via email by the end of July. These marks will be transmitted to the MEQ and will appear on the student's ministerial Achievement Record, also called the Relevé des notes. As the exams are the property of the MEQ and must remain confidential, parents and students will not receive any copies of the corrections or assessment.

8.7 School board mandated exams and projects leading to credits for a high school leaving diploma

The EMSB mandates exams to be written by their entire secondary school population. These mandated exams may differ from one school board to another. However, the 9 English school boards have agreed that the exams will all be written on the same date and at the same time. If they wish, homeschoolers can write these school board mandated exams, as stated in Article 23.2 of the Homeschooling Regulation, respecting the exam calendar produced by the school board. These exams count for 100% of the student's final mark.

8.7.1 Parents' Responsibilities

- a) Parents must register their child to write the exams and/or complete a project using the form appended to the EMSB Modalities document found on the school board website, respecting the registration deadline published on the school board's website.
- b) A copy of the child's Learning Project must be sent to the school board with the registration form.

8.7.2 School Board's Responsibilities

Marks obtained by homeschoolers on school board-mandated exams will be communicated to parents in a letter sent via email by the end of July. These marks will be transmitted to the MEQ and will appear on the student's ministerial Achievement Record, also called the Relevé des notes.

8.8 Evaluations other than the MEQ and school board mandated exams are necessary to accumulate the 54 credits required for obtaining a high school diploma.

8.8.1 Project based evaluations for Secondary 4 & 5 elective courses

- a) Students may benefit from an evaluation of learning by means of a project imposed and corrected by the school board's pedagogical consultants;
- b) The student shall report to the EMSB head office located at 6000 Fielding Avenue in Montreal, on the scheduled date and time. The student's identity will be verified. The student will meet with the pedagogical consultant to receive the project, the timeline, and the evaluation criteria. During the project work time, the student and the pedagogical consultant will meet periodically to review the student's progress;
- c) The student shall report to the EMSB head office located at 6000 Fielding Avenue in Montreal, on the scheduled date and time to submit the completed project to the pedagogical consultant. The student's identity will be verified;
- d) The project, which is the property of the school board, must remain confidential. Parents and students will not receive any copy of the correction or evaluation. The mark will be transmitted to the MEQ and will appear on the student's ministerial Achievement Record, also called the Relevé des notes.

9. MEQ EXAM FAMILIARIZATION SESSIONS FOR GRADES 6, 10, 11

Once a student has been registered with the school board to write MEQ exams, they are entitled to participate in familiarization sessions. These sessions are to familiarize the students with the type of tasks, the expected level of difficulty and the specific conditions related to the writing of exams. They are only open to homeschooled students whose Learning Projects have been submitted to the school board and that include the subject at the appropriate grade level.

Those 90-minute optional sessions are organized by the school board according to a precise schedule that, along with information, will be shared with parents after they register their child for an MEQ exam. These are in-person sessions only. Parents will have to register their child to attend the familiarization sessions using the form found in the appendix of the Modalities document on the EMSB Homeschooling website. This form must be submitted by the deadline on the website.

9.1 Procedures of the familiarization session

- a) Only the homeschooled student registered for the MEQ exam will have access to previous versions of the MEQ exam, so they know what to expect.

It is recommended that they consult the Guides for Parents published by the MEQ, "... which are designed to inform parents about the June 2021 and subsequent MEQ exams, present the structure of the exams and the administration procedures, as well as sample documents from past exams." These guides are available on the MEQ website: <http://www.education.gouv.qc.ca/accueil/> .
