Night at the Museum

Explore the Smithsonian National Museum of Natural History to see what animals you can find and learn about.

Learn about the different types of animals you will see and classify them in this chart based on the type of animal: mammals, birds, reptiles, fish, amphibians and insects. Which type of animal do you think you see the most of?

National Parks Adventures

Have you ever wondered…
What it looks like inside the crevasse of a glacier or inside the lava tube of a volcano? Or perhaps you were wondering about life in caves or sea life in a coral reef? Take some time to get outside virtually and be mesmerized by the beauty Mother Nature has created here on planet Earth. Explore 5 spectacular National Parks in a front row seat on an interactive ranger-guided tour.

Let's Go On A Fieldtrip!

This week, take some time to go on a virtual field trip and explore awesome places around the world from the comfort of your own home! This page gives you some examples with fun related activities, but there are many other virtual field trips available online.

Click here for more options.

Under the Sea

Go on a virtual self-guided tour of the National Aquarium! Explore the different scenes and click on the 🛈 icon for fun facts about the animals.

Now, it's your turn to make your own aquarium with items you have at home!

Click here for a sensory activity and click here for a fine motor activity.

African Safari

Watch animals in the beautiful African wilderness! Choose a live channel here or here to discover what elephants, giraffes, warthogs and many other animals do during the day and night. Listen to the sounds of the African bush and pretend you are on a safari as you spot the animals in their natural habitat.

Click here to do an African Animal Phonemic Awareness activity! Learn the names of the different animals as you play. For a fun story retell, login to BookFlix with your EMSB account and search for Giraffes Can't Dance.
