

International Student Funding Assurance

Source of Financial Support

KCU requires that incoming international students show financial proof of their ability to pay the total cost of attendance for the full duration of their selected program. Financial proof must be shown in liquid assets (see examples below) through bank statements or other official financial documents. A private student loan can only be used as part of the liquid assets for the first year of the selected program. Supporting documents must state that the loan is intended for educational purposes. However, a student may take out a private student loan for tuition and/or living expenses for the academic year on a per semester basis.

The financial documents submitted must be dated within the last 6 months of the submission date in Workday. When submitting the financial documents, please include the official statement with transaction history and summary. Please note, that we may deem necessary that applicants submit a verification statement from the financial institution that includes the exchange rate total in USD and verification of account owner(s). Examples of bank and verification statements are provided on pages 5 and 6 of this PDF. Documents deemed insufficient will not be accepted.
