

Dr. Nafisa Ahmad

My name is Dr. Nafisa Ahmad. I am a general dentist practicing in Whitby. I graduated with honours from the University of Toronto, Faculty of Dentistry in 1997 and then went on to do a General Practice Residency at University of Illinois and the University of Chicago. While at U of T, I served as the editor for the University of Toronto dental journal and conducted research in oral surgery and pain management. I also volunteered at Sunnybrook Hospital and the Hospital for Sick Children. As a mother of twins, one of whom has autism, I have a special interest in advocating for special needs patients. I look forward to serving the public, upholding professionalism in oral health care and fostering the College's vision of a community where all are welcome and valued.
