

Dr. Peter Delean

My education, work experience in private practice and the ten years representing the NDEB, as well as time spent at College as a non-Council and Council member demonstrate that I have the core competencies to be a valued team member on the RCDSO board and its various committees.

The role of the College, to protect the public, is clearly understood. Council members are not there to advocate for the profession, rather to ensure the public is protected by registering, licensing, and monitoring qualified members.

An effective committee member brings an unbiased view, open mind, an educated opinion, an ability to listen, and a work ethic. I would be happy to serve and make a positive contribution on any of the College's committees.

Thanks, Peter Delean.
