

Dr. Pardeep Goyal

I am seeking to serve on RCDSO Council because I believe effective self-regulation requires thoughtful, accountable decision-making with the public interest at its centre. As a practising dentist with experience in clinical care, patient communication, team leadership and dental practice management, I have developed an understanding of the responsibilities that come with providing safe, ethical and patient-centred care. My professional experience has also taught me the importance of listening carefully, considering different perspectives and making decisions based on evidence, fairness and the needs of those affected. I recognize that Council's role is to protect the public and provide effective oversight of Ontario's dental profession. If elected, I would approach that responsibility with professionalism, integrity, openness and respect for the College's mandate. I would seek to understand issues from multiple perspectives while keeping patient safety, quality of care and public confidence central to my consideration of Council matters. I value equity, diversity and inclusion and believe that people are best served when they are treated with dignity and when barriers to understanding and accessing care are recognized. My interactions with patients, colleagues and members of diverse communities have reinforced the importance of respectful communication and inclusive decision-making. I would bring my clinical experience, leadership skills, collaborative approach and commitment to continuous learning to Council. My goal would be to contribute constructively to responsible governance and to uphold the public's trust in Ontario's dental regulatory system.